TWO 18 YEAR OLDS ARRESTED FOR GRAFFITI

Two Pennsylvania teens were arrested at 2:30 this morning for spray painting graffiti on numerous south end buildings and property. Cpl. Doug Smith and PFC Frank Soscia were working plain clothes when they discovered the teens spray painting a dumpster belonging to the Decatur House on 12th Street.

Uniformed officers took the two into custody. Officers discovered damage to more than a dozen buildings, dumpsters, electrical boxes, and the seawall on the boardwalk.

The two painted "SPADE," "LHM," and "DGAF" at these locations. They claimed "LHM" stood for Lions Head Mafia, and "DGAF" stood for Don't Give A Fuck.

They also used a stencil to paint a pig's head wearing a police hat that said "OCPD" that said "Pig Fucker" above the caricature (see attached photo).

Police arrested Lewis Galli and Joseph Klein, both from Lebanon, Pennsylvania. The two were charged with 14 counts of Misdemeanor Malicious Destruction, and one count of Felony Malicious Destruction Scheme. Each is being held on $3,500 bond.
