For Immediate Release:

OCPD CHIEF DIPINO APPOINTED TO MARYLAND POLICE AND CORRECTIONAL TRAINING COMMISSION VICE CHAIR

Ocean City Police Chief Bernadette DiPino was recently appointed Vice Chair of the Maryland Police and Correctional Training Commission (MPTC). Chief DiPino was first sworn in as the Regional Representative of MPTC in 2007 and again on Wednesday, June 9, 2010 by Stephen Hales, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Worcester County.

The Police and Correctional Training Commission regulates and enforces the training and certification standards for all Maryland police officers, correctional officers and training academies. Additionally, it is the responsibility of the commission to provide training and professional development sessions to public safety and criminal justice employees from public to private agencies in Maryland and from other states.

The Police Training Commission consists of 15 members, 12 of which serve ex officio. Chief DiPino, however, is one of three members who were appointed by the Governor for a three-year term.
