OCBP Question-of-the-Week for The Worcester County Times

This Week's Question: How many lifeguard stands are there from the inlet to the Delaware state line? (My kids ask me this all the time, and I used to ask my parents this too years ago, so getting an answer would be great!) Also, how many beach patrol surf rescue technicians are there in total, and how many does it take to staff the beach on a typical summer day?

The number of stands on the beach changes throughout the season and is dependant on several factors. During the earliest part of our season, Memorial Day weekend through mid-June, while the water is traditionally colder and the crowds are smaller, we place less stands on the beach than we do during peak season July and August. However during our early season we increase the number of guard towers on the weekends and holidays. In support of our early season deployment goals we hold our final Surf Rescue Academy beginning the 3rd week of June each year. With the addition of this last academy of rookies we are at 100% staffing by the end of June. We plan to have all stands in place by July 1st each summer and on a typical day there will be 92 stands deployed from the Ocean City inlet to the Delaware line.

Another annual occurrence is our reduction in staff during the last weeks of August as our personnel return to other obligations. This reduction in personnel is complicated by the earlier start of college classes and the return of our education professionals to school systems throughout the United States. Many of our professional educators are required to return two weeks prior to Labor Day. In recent years we have seen a trend for both colleges and public school systems to begin classes prior to Labor Day. The Ocean City Beach Patrol is committed to provide Surf Rescue Technicians (Lifeguards) along the entire beach for all visitors and residents so rather than have unguarded areas the number of available lifeguard towers are equally distributed along the beach front. During this time of the year you will notice a larger distance between stands. This trend continues following Labor Day through the last day of our season, which is the Sunday of Sunfest weekend (Sunday, September 22, 2013 this year). While we are in a reduced coverage scheme and the redistribution of personnel occurs the location and distance between stands changes (sometimes on a daily basis).

With the addition of returning Surf Rescue Technicians on weekends we will increase the total number of stands (and decrease the distance between stands) on those days.

Although our coverage will be done with fewer personnel and less lifeguard towers than during peak season we will supplement this coverage by increasing the number of Mobil Rescue Units patrolling the beach. These mobile units are first-aid and AED equipped with one SRT (rider) acting as the primary rescue swimmer while the other SRT (driver) maintains radio communication and backup during an emergency. Both are qualified as surf rescue technicians, medical first responders and are quad (ATV) certified.

Now that we have explained how the number of guard towers changes throughout our season, I will attempt to answer the 2nd part of your question regarding how many guards it takes to staff all the stands. Using our maximum deployment of 92 stands it takes a minimum of 109 SRTs to just cover these stands and lunch shifts. However, based on the typical workweek of an SRT which is 5 ½ days it takes additional SRTs to cover days off, special duties, and training. To accommodate this the Ocean City Beach Patrol is organized by crews. The 17 crews are deployed from the Ocean City inlet to the Maryland/Delaware line and cover all 10 miles of beach and ocean. Each crew is made up of eight or nine SRTs, one of which is the crew chief and one is appointed to the one season training position of assistant crew chief. Typically each stand is assigned a "regular" guard who sits that stand five days each week. During their half day they are known as the lunch rover and replace an SRT in their crew for 30 minutes during that crew's lunch rotation. During their two days off their stand one of the crew's rovers will cover their stand. In addition to the SRTs the Beach Patrol also employs surf beach facilitators who monitor the daily surfing beaches as well as office staff. The leadership of the patrol is made up of one Captain, one 1st Lieutenant, two 2nd Lieutenants, and thirteen sergeants. The one leadership position you are most likely to notice is our area supervisors (sergeants) who patrol one of 4 areas along the beach on Honda 4x4s.

Meet the Lifeguard: Crew Chief Adam Atwood

Crew Chief Adam Atwood has been with the Beach Patrol for 12 years. He is in charge of Crew 14. They are located in the north end of Ocean City in the Condos between 107th – 118th Street (Golden Sands to Carousel). Adam is a United States Lifesaving Association member and likes to travel in his free time. In the off-season he teaches 8th grade science in Dorchester County, MD.

The lifeguard's of the Ocean City Beach Patrol are glad to answer any of your beach and water safety questions

Subject: AMAZING !!

Dear Captain Arbin:

I have to write to tell you how greatly i admire your amazing Beach Patrol lifeguards! We have been watching them stand out for hours in the pouring rain. Here at 133d Street we can see no one in the ocean or on the beach in any direction. Yet your lifeguards are at their posts doing their job. They give new meaning to the term, "professional!"
Thank you for all that you and your entire staff do to protect us!

Sincerely,
Doug Noble
