Captain Craig Swim History

The Annual Captain Craig Swim is named for Robert S. Craig who served as the captain of the Ocean City Beach Patrol for forty years, from 1946 to 1986.

Bob Craig was born and reared in Wilmington, Delaware. Ocean City has always been an important part of his life. His father was a schoolteacher, and the family spent the summers in a cottage at the beach. He married a young woman from nearby Berlin, Virginia Lee Mason.

After attending the University of Pennsylvania, receiving an undergraduate degree with a major in languages and a master's degree in education, he still returned every summer to Ocean City to be on the Beach Patrol.

Craig's teaching career was in St. Louis, where he taught languages and mathematics to high school students and coached football, basketball, tennis, and golf. He and his wife settled into a year-round home in, of course, Ocean City. He remained Captain of the Beach Patrol, and once described himself as "probably the longest-term temporary employee the city ever has ever had."

Since Bob Craig started on the Patrol, it has grown to about 200 members. The guard towers continued their advance up the beach as the resort developed. Today, the Patrol covers ten miles of beach, from the Inlet rocks to the Maryland-Delaware line. It is equipped with 4-wheel drive vehicles, rescue watercrafts, Honda quads, walkie-talkies, and the familiar semaphore flags. Written by 1st Lieutenant Skip Lee, OCBP (c) 1998.

- These validation codes are only good for a specific date, time and activity.

This year's validation code is OCBP22

OCBP Question-of-the-Week for The Worcester County Times

Does the beach patrol provide any activities for children vacationing at the beach?

Ocean City has a wide variety of quality camps with so much to offer. There are numerous camps available but of course our favorite is our Junior Beach Patrol Program. This "Award Winning" program offers children ages 10-17 the opportunity to experience the training and daily routine of real lifeguards or, as we call them, surf rescue technicians (SRTs). The program models itself after the duties and responsibilities of the SRT and focuses on the development of skills associated with the enjoyable and safe use of the beach. It is designed to instruct boys and girls in the skills and techniques of beach safety, water safety, surf rescue and physical fitness as well as respect for the ocean and each other while instilling the values of teamwork and cooperation. Registration for these programs begins in early March and is ongoing until all slots are filled. So that all participants have a valuable experience we limit the number in each session to no more than 30, which gives an instructor to participant ratio of less than 1 to 5. With the popularity of this program growing each season you should register your children early to assure a spot. Registration questions may be directed to the Ocean City Recreation and Parks Department at 410-250-0125. Many SRTs made their start in lifesaving in the junior beach patrol.

This program is offered in two types of sessions. We offer a four-day academy from Tuesday through Friday from 8 until 11:30 a.m. as well as a one-day introduction session, which takes place on Thursdays from 1 to 5 pm. The four-day academy consists of four levels that children can advance through, having new skills introduced at each level. Each level has both an age requirement as well as successful completion of the previous level. After successfully completing all four levels and at least 15 years old, a participant can apply for one of the paid positions as a Junior Instructor. This paid position ($15.00 hr. - 2022 rate) requires a modified Skills test of running and swimming and once selected the Junior Instructor will attend a paid Surf Rescue Training Academy along with rookie Surf Rescue Technicians (Beach Patrol Lifeguards) and will be well on their way of becoming a Surf Rescue Technician once they turn 17 years of age. Starting in 2020 anyone who has participated successfully in all 4 levels may become an SRT at 16, once they pass all phases of our pre-employment physical skills evaluation (try-outs). Due to the popularity of the program, we have added an afternoon four-day session during several weeks from 1 to 4 p.m. Programs are repeated each week for six weeks so there should be a JBP academy that will work during your stay in Ocean City.

<https://camps.oceancitymd.gov/junior-beach-patrol-camp/>

In addition to the junior beach patrol program, the beach patrol also provides special activities, programs, speakers and seminars to various groups such as scouts, church groups, camps, schools and civic organizations. We have a safety booth set up each Tuesday outside of the Lifesaving Museum beginning at 10 a.m. There are two more days scheduled this summer for Storytime on the Beach with the Worcester County Library and a lifeguard at 11:30 a.m. Those dates are July 20th and August 24th. Safety training focuses primarily on drowning prevention and safety around the water. They also provide many helpful tips on how to keep children safe at the beach. These presentations and hands-on activities are critical in allowing the beach patrol to fulfill their three-part mission of education, prevention and intervention. If you have a group interested in a beach safety program or speaker, contact the beach patrol at 410-289-7556 or email ocbp@oceancitymd.gov. We also provide a safety presentation in a reserved section of the beach for your group and will also have SRTs in that area while the members of the group are getting oriented to the beach and water. You must contact us two weeks before your visit for this service. There is no charge to organizations for these presentations.

In addition to all the activities that are offered by the Beach Patrol, the Town of Ocean City has free family events throughout the week all summer long and the Recreation and Parks Department has all kinds of camps and activities for young and old. Several specific events such as "Movies on The Beach", "Family Olympics" and one of our favorites "Sundaes in The Park" (125th street recreation complex) will also have Beach Patrol staff at the event and may have give-a-ways for young and not so young.

To get current information about the beach patrol as well as daily stats and current beach conditions, you can follow the beach patrol on Instagram or "like us" on the official OCBP Facebook page. We can't wait to be a part of your wonderful experiences in Ocean City, because we are glad you are here, and always remember to "Keep your feet in the sand until the lifeguard's in the stand!"

Meet the Lifeguard: CC Christopher Sanders

CC Christopher Sanders has been with the Beach Patrol for 5 years. He was recently promoted to be the Crew Chief (a management position) for Crew 16 in the north area of Ocean City which covers the beach from 121 street to 131st street. Chris is a USLA (United States Life Saving Association) member, OCBP Bike Team member and Advanced Open water and Rescue Diver certified. In his free time, he is an avid exerciser. He has been a CrossFit coach for 5 years and will be doing Eagleman 70.3 this June. Chris enjoys boating and being out on the water. In the off season he will be attending graduate school at Smeal College of Business at Penn State for his master's degree in Business Analytics. CC Chris Sanders and the other lifeguards of the Ocean City Beach Patrol are glad to answer any of your beach and water safety questions. If you think you would like a position with the Patrol like Chris, ask any of our guards or visit our website at JoinBeachPatrol.com. Testing for our 2023 season will begin this August. Anyone can get a job... But with the Ocean City Beach Patrol, YOU can make a difference!
